

Family bred border collies that can do it all! From herding and agility to obedience, but most importantly being your best friend.

GRANITE MOUNTAIN
Border Collies

Stay in touch!

Cliff and Toni Woods
29100 Highway 41
Coarsegold, California

About us

Granite Mountain Border Collies is a small family owned dog breeder located just outside Fresno. They currently have three males and four females on their family estate, Casa Maderas, located in Coarsegold, CA. Their property is spacious and lush with native oak trees, grasses, and a lot of granite. The dogs love to run around the 10-acre property and occasionally take a dip in the small pond.

Border Collies have been bred and raised at Casa Maderas for five years now. Granite Mountain Border Collies breed specifically for agility, herding, and obedience. This is why most of their dogs have a short hair coat, not common in what most people know border collies to have. Although the short hair coat is uncommon, it is very popular for dogs specialized in herding. Their short coat dogs are what make Granite Mountain Border Collies stand out among the rest.

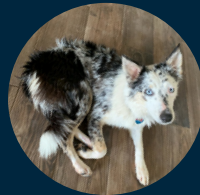

Granite Mountain Border Collies are some of the most affectionate, intelligent, and obedient dogs around. So, whether you are a shepherd looking for some extra help around the farm, a trainer looking for your next agility champion, or a family looking for your new loving best friend, Granite Mountain Border Collies has the right fit for you!

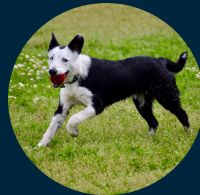

Meet the family!

Roscoe "the boss"

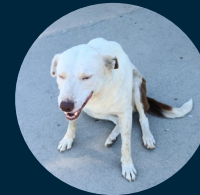

Bear "the fluffy one"

Buster "the cool one"

Cali "the queen"

Lily "the smiley one"

Penny "the princess"